DEATH FROM A BIRD'S BITE.-A death from the bite of an English sparrow is the singular fatality reported from the vicinity of Stemmer's Run, Baltimore county, Md. The victim was little Ida Moore, the bright eight een months' old daughter of Charles Moore, who lives near Rechabite Hall, on the Philadelphia road, about eight Heals the Sores.

Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. It will cure Hay fever. A particle is applied in ly pleased with their find, and took the bird to the house for the little girl to play with. On being released the spar row flew savagely at the child, and fiercely seized her lower lip. The baby's scream's brought her mother to the rescue, and she endeavored to get the sparrow away. Before this could be done the bird had to be killed and the beak pried open with a pair of pincers. Dr. W. Veres Mace, of Stem-mer's Run, was called to attend the child. An illness, in the nature of blood-poisoning, set in, and the little one soon succumbed. Dr. Mace said that her death was due to the effects of her injury. The child was buried on last Friday in the graveyard of How-ard's Methodist Church, near Stemmer's Run.

> Bate, N. Y., then a girl of 14, swallow-Two years afterward it made itself felt under her left knee, and came so near the surface that everyone thought it would work its way out, but it did not. It turned and started on a new trip. Several years passed before it was felt vears later Mrs. Durham felt it near her right albow. Four years afterward it assailed Mrs. Ducham's right knee and an attempt was made to cut it out, but it got away. So it had been going ever since, but last week it, was felt in her left leg, and a doctor succeeded in cutting it out. It was headed for another upward journey.

> WANTS 10,000 ACRES,-Mesers. Wallace & Roach, real estate agents of this city, received a letter Saturday from a Washington real estate firm inquiring if 10,000 acres in one body, suitable for a vineyard and the cultivation of Irish potatoes, could be had in this section. The Washington firm was informed that while they might not be able to get the amount of land desired in one tract, there was was plenty of good land in this section that could be purchased on the most favorable terms .-

CURED BY FAITH .- Norfolk has a re markable example of faith cure in Miss Katie Florence Turpin, an orphan, 18 I will put up SETS OF years old, whose spine was injured by TEETH at the rate of $7, $8 a fall when she was nine months old, confining her to the bed or a wheel-chair. On January 19, it is said, she arose from her bed and walked across the room, announcing that God, in answer to prayer, had cured her. He refused to tell where or by whom he winning the kind of notoriety which "le petit sucrier" enjoys. M. Cail is known in the gay world of Paris as "le petit fondeur." His family have just set him up with a conseil judiciare, or a guardianship council. One of the foolish deeds alleged against him was a Christmas eve supper to fast clubmen and pretty actresses. As midnight struck an old Christmas carol was sung, and then the company sat down to table. Each lady was provided with a costly
